

KENNYWOOD - DISCOUNTED TICKETS AVAILABLE FOR A VERY LIMITED TIME

Greetings all - The 2008 NCACC Annual Meeting in Pittsburgh is fast approaching. One of the little-known gems of the Steel City is Kennywood Amusement Park, located on bluffs above the Monongahela River about 10 miles southeast of downtown Pittsburgh. Kennywood is one of the last remaining "traditional" trolley parks, which once existed in or near every city of any size through the country. For those with children (and those who are simply "young at heart"), Kennywood should not be missed.

Like other large parks today, Kennywood charges an all-inclusive gate fee. The normal "day pass" sells for $32, which is less than most other large parks ($19 for "mature citizens" over the age of 55 and "juniors" under 46 inches tall). However, tickets are heavily discounted if purchased early in the year through certain local schools as a fundraiser. If purchased early, tickets are available for $19 each for all ages. These discounted tickets are good any weekday (not weekends) during the season. There is also an "after 5" sundown plan, which sells at the gate for $17 per person all days.

Public transportation exists from downtown, but I can't vouch for its convenience. For the non-golfers in the crowd, Tuesday afternoon and evening would seem a perfect time - hopefully carpools can be arranged. If anyone is interested in the "early" discount tickets, please contact John Moyer, PA at John.Moyer@pacourts.us before May 9 with the number of tickets needed.

For more information, visit http://www.kennywood.com/park_info/park_info.php

